The Woman in the Window
A. J. Finn

- In what is sure to be the most talked about debut of 2018, a shut-in reeling from trauma and drug abuse passes time spying on her neighbors, only to witness a horrific murder of a woman who seemingly doesn’t exist.
- “A tour de force [that] left my own mind reeling and my heart pounding.”
  —Louise Penny

Odd Child Out
Gilly Macmillan

- From the New York Times bestselling author of What She Knew and The Perfect Girl.
- When a young boy is found floating unconscious in a Bristol canal, his best friend, a Somali refugee, refuses to speak, igniting social unrest and a fierce battle for the boys’ families.

Even If It Kills Her
Kate White

- True-crime journalist turned amateur sleuth Bailey Weggins investigates the murder of her old friend’s husband, uncovering dangerous secrets that local police, family friends, and the true killer are desperate to keep hidden.

The Child Finder
Rene Denfeld

- From the author of The Enchanted comes a new novel set in the dark woods of the Pacific Northwest about an investigator known for her unique ability to find missing children.
- Its lovely and lyrical prose and fast-paced, engrossing plot make it great for fans of The Girls, Everything I Never Told You, Station Eleven, and Imagine Me Gone.

The Second Sister
Claire Kendal

- From the author of The Book of You, one woman’s obsessive quest to discover the truth behind her older sister’s disappearance thrusts her into the web of a sadistic serial killer locked away in a psychiatric hospital.
- For fans of Rosamund Lupton’s Sister and Kimberly McCreight’s Reconstructing Amelia.

The Missing
C. L. Taylor

- In this harrowing psychological thriller, a desperate mother must confront the possibility that her young son’s disappearance and her family’s dark secret history are connected.
- “The Missing has a delicious sense of foreboding from the first page, luring us into the heart of a family with terrible secrets and making us wait, with pounding hearts for the final, agonizing twist. Loved it.” —Fiona Barton, author of The Widow

The Girl with Kaleidoscope Eyes
David Handler

- The first new entry in the beloved Hoagy & Lulu series in more than 20 years!
- Celebrity ghostwriter and part-time murder investigator Hoagy is hired by an eccentric family of influential artists to write a tell-all, only to find mystery, intrigue, and murder lurking around every corner.
- “David Handler is so good at writing one smart, funny page-turner after another that he makes it look easy.” —Harlan Coben

Spring the Trap: Mysteries That Won’t Let Go

Local Girl Missing
Claire Douglas

- From the bestselling author of The Sisters comes this twisty, haunting thriller about two best friends, corrosive jealousy, and dark secrets—perfect for fans of The Widow and Luckiest Girl Alive.
- “Compelling and page-turning, wonderfully written and impossible to second guess with a brilliant twist.” —Debbie Howells, bestselling author of The Bones of You

Like a Fly on the Wall
Simone Kelly

- In this debut, a mysterious man with supernatural gifts teams with an adventurous twenty-something private eye to learn the truth behind his father’s death.
- “[Simone Kelly] has crafted a modern-day hero who breaks the mold of the traditional archetype and a heroine that is sure to be his match.” —Denna Hill, bestselling author of My Love at Last
- For fans of Zane and Carl Weber.

The House at Baker Street
Michelle Birkby

- In this enthralling debut, Sherlock Holmes’ landlady, Mrs. Hudson, teams with Mary Watson to take on a dangerous case turned down by the famous detective.
- For fans of Anthony Horowitz and Sophie Hannah.
